Did you know?

Do you know the story of the famous sardine that was so big it completely blocked the entrance to the Old Port of Marseille? That's right! The 'sardine' in question is actually a frigate called 'La Sartine' with a 't' and not a 'd', which sank at the entrance in the 18th century.

Mucem

Between sky and sea, this unique museum is dedicated to the cultures of Europe and the Mediterranean. More than a museum, the Mucem is a true cultural gem. Covering 1,600 m², discover the major stages in the history of Mediterranean civilisations. Throughout the year, the museum also offers temporary exhibitions, conferences, films, documentaries, shows, etc. Every weekend, plenty of activities await young visitors: fun tours, clever workshops, play books and 'Le Fabuleux Terrier', an area designed just for little adventurers!

Préau des Accoules

In the heart of Marseille old town, in the former hall of the Académie de Marseille, the Préau des Accoules offers a space specially designed for young visitors. The Préau collaborates with the Museums of Marseille to devise innovative educational trails around the Museums' high-quality artworks so that the rich reservoir of collections they hold can be explored effectively by the children. Everything has been designed to ensure that their first visit to the museum is fun and full of discoveries that will encourage them to come back again and again. The Préau des Accoules thus aims to be a museum 'playground' where children can contemplate, dream and come into contact with new things as their curiosity is piqued.

Petit Train de Marseille

Two lovely train rides await adults and children alike when you climb aboard the Petit Train de Marseille (Marseille's miniature train) to discover the city, steeped in history. The first tour takes you past the Vieux Port (Old Port) and on to the Notre Dame de la Garde basilica via a coastal road that runs past the sea. You can admire sights such as Fort St Nicolas and the Palais du Pharo before reaching La Bonne Mère at 162 metres of altitude. The second tour takes you into Marseille's old quarters, where you will see the Hôtel de Cabre, the Hôtel Dieu, the Cathédrale de la Major, and more.
